Hi Julie –

I had the same issue myself at first. If you click the link below it will take you to the login site, but when it loads, it also modifies the URL in the address bar. The modified URL will not work as a bookmark, but if you update your bookmark to match this URL in your browser's bookmark manager, it should fix the problem.

I went to my bookmark for the new A2A website and it is saying the page isn't there.... Unfortunately, I didn't write the actual site down. Can you please send me a link for the new database?

Thanks and sorry!
